PEAK NOT HIT BY RISING TIDE OF INFLUENZA

Abe Martin

Largest Number of Cases in Any One Day Indicates Many Must Suffer.

MORE INOCULATIONS

The continued spread of the influenza epidemic in Pittsburgh is indicated today by a report from the Department of Health of 321 new cases, bringing the total number of cases reported since the beginning of the epidemic period to 7,650.

The department has not been notified of any additional cases today, and officials are exploring the possibility that there may be a decrease in the number of cases during the next few days.

More Deaths Reported

The total number of deaths from the disease in Pittsburgh since the beginning of the epidemic period has now risen to 2,650. Of these deaths, 2,200 have been attributed to pneumonia.

Red Cross Needs 300 Nurses To Fight Spanish Influenza

The Red Cross is seeking 300 nurses to fight the Spanish influenza epidemic in the United States. Nurses will be paid $500 per month.

The Red Cross will offer a 24-hour service to all hospitals and will provide nurses to care for patients suffering from the disease.

The Red Cross needs 300 nurses to fight the Spanish influenza epidemic in the United States. Nurses will be paid $500 per month.