BOARD DECIDES SCHOOLS OPEN NEXT MONDAY

President David B. Oliver and Other Officers Are Re-elected.

TEACHERS ASK RAISE

All officers of the Board of Education were re-elected and plans for reopening the schools, which were closed by the influenza epidemic, were discussed at the semi-annual reorganization meeting of the board.

David B. Oliver, who has been principal of the schools, will remain as principal. In addition, Taylor Adlde, as vice president, and W. O. Carstens, as secretary, were elected.

In accordance with provisions of the charter, Charles R. Heimbach was elected treasurer of the school board and City Controller. J. M. Morrow was chosen as school controller. Attorney J. Rodger McCree was re-elected, and Oliver was re-elected controller.

Superintendent W. C. Anderson, in an address to the board, said that the schools will open on November 10. The pupils of these grades will be examined on that day and will resume their regular work the following day.
