WEARING MASK COMPULSORY IN OAKLAND

19 Deaths and 534 New Cases Are Reported; Municipal Hospital Established in Auditorium

In Berkeley Influenza Preventive Ordinance Goes into Effect Immediately; Fine is $500

Wearing of masks at all times will be compulsory in the city of Oakland and will be enforced with the utmost severity by the municipal authorities, according to a proclamation issued by Mayor F. W. Goethals, which has been in effect since Monday. The order was issued in response to the spread of the influenza epidemic, the most serious in the history of Oakland.

The proclamation orders all citizens to wear masks at all times, with the exception of eating, drinking, or smoking, and also when going to the bathroom. A violation of the order will result in a fine of $500, which will be paid on the first day of the month following the date of the violation.

The order also directs all public and private schools to be closed until further notice, and all public meetings and events to be postponed until the epidemic subsides.

The municipal hospital, which has been established in the auditorium of the city hall, is ready to receive and care for all patients suffering from the influenza.

Masks are being distributed free of charge at all police stations in the city and are available for purchase at all local drug stores.

However, due to the severe nature of the epidemic, the city is experiencing a shortage of masks, and the supply is limited to a maximum of five per person.

The mayor has also requested the state to send in additional supplies of masks to meet the demands of the city.

The extreme severity of the epidemic has led to a great number of deaths and hospitalizations, and the city is taking all necessary steps to contain the spread of the disease.

The mayor has appealed to all citizens to cooperate fully with the measures taken by the municipal authorities to control the epidemic, and to avoid unnecessary gatherings and social events.

A Message to the People

Dear Oaklanders,

I am writing to you today to inform you of the severity of the influenza epidemic in our city. The number of cases has increased dramatically in the past few days, and the situation is critical.

I urge all citizens to cooperate fully with the measures taken by the municipal authorities to control the epidemic. This includes wearing masks at all times, except when eating, drinking, or smoking, and when going to the bathroom.

I also request that all schools be closed until further notice, and all public meetings and events be postponed until the epidemic subsides.

Due to the severe nature of the epidemic, the city is experiencing a shortage of masks, and the supply is limited to a maximum of five per person. I urge all citizens to obtain masks as soon as possible.

The municipal hospital, which has been established in the auditorium of the city hall, is ready to receive and care for all patients suffering from the influenza. Masks are being distributed free of charge at all police stations in the city and are available for purchase at all local drug stores.

I urge all citizens to cooperate fully with the measures taken by the municipal authorities to control the epidemic, and to avoid unnecessary gatherings and social events.

I am committed to taking all necessary steps to control the epidemic, and to protect the health of all Oaklanders. Please cooperate fully with the measures taken by the municipal authorities.

Yours truly,

F. W. Goethals, Mayor
