FOUR MASKS TO BE OUSTED THANKSGIVING DAY

Celebration of National Holiday Probably to Be Attended By Discarding Gauze Devices

Churches, Theatres and Schools Expected to Reopen Soon; Final Decision Due in Few Days

Thanksgiving Day will be celebrated in the usual manner by discarding of gauze masks, if the present emergency areas in influenza do not increase. The decision was made today by the Health Board. The recommendation was announced by Dr. William C. Hurd, health officer yesterday.

The meeting that decided the question took place yesternight at the home of the Board of Health. The decision was made to permit the holding of public meetings at the exact time the city council met.

Dr. Hurd stated that the holding of public meetings was to be permitted. He said that the decision was made to permit the holding of public meetings.

Crowds bring increase

No new cases of influenza were reported today. There were no deaths. There is a possibility that the influenza situation may improve in the next few days.
