

MUSTERING OUT MANY DOCTORS AT CAMP CRANE

Many doctors, who are commissioned officers in the Medical Service, are being mustered out at Camp Crane. The discharge of about fifty have been received up to date and the men have been sent home. The discharges are being put through only in the cases of men needed in their communities because of the influenza epidemic. Appeals have come in to headquarters for the release of men to communities that have been left without a single physician or with but one or a few, but which need many on account of the great amount of sickness.
