

CONTAGIOUS WARD MASKS FOR SALE IN CITY

The Red Cross Are Selling
Them at Ten Cents Apiece.
Their Use Recommended.

In response to the frequent request for contagious ward masks, the Surgical Dressing Department of the Allentown Chapter, American Red Cross, has decided to sell masks to the public at 10 cents a piece. These can be bought at 27 South Fulton street, Geo. Shoemaker's drug store, 80 1/2 Hamilton street, Schadt's drug store, Tenth and Liberty streets, Fegley's drug store, Sixth and Allen streets, C. H. Kratzer's drug store, Second and Liberty streets, and Knabb's drug store, Third and Hamilton streets. These stores have very kindly consented to sell these masks with no profit for themselves.

These masks should be worn by members of the family or attendants on an influenza patient. A few drops of Oil of Eucalyptus or any mild antiseptic, dropped on the mask, is advised as an added precaution to the attendant. The masks should be frequently sterilized and kept perfectly clean. The black thread on the mask designates the outside.

MANY CAMP CRANE DOCTORS FIGHTING EPIDEMIC

Thirty doctors from Camp Crane left yesterday for Pottsville to take up relief work in the influenza epidemic in that city and the coal regions. Up to date almost eighty officers have gone from the camp to Pottsville and about twenty others to Stroudsburg, Philadelphia, Wilkes-Barre, Chester, Norristown, the Bethlehem Steel plant and Camp Coppee.
