

TUESDAY EVENING EVENT AT CAMP CRANE

The first of a series of Tuesday evening entertainments for the soldiers in Camp Crane was held Tuesday night on the grandstand before a good crowd of the men. It was under the W. O. C. S. auspices.

Harry HurDe gave "tricks with the sticks," a good juggling act.

Miss Mildred Shuster sang a group of four songs and was the big hit of the evening. This talented younger singer also furnished her own accompaniment on the piano and the boys could not get enough of her singing.

Mutter and Carpenter, the comedians, gave a white and blackface singing and dancing stunt and Mutter in singing was accompanied by Irving Leder, of the camp.

Miss Sadie Silbersten, the ten year old girl singer, of Bethlehem, delighted the crowd with new ballads. She was accompanied on the piano by her sister, Miss Esther Silberstein.

Charles Lawrence and Edward Booth, of the War Camp Community Service gave a screamingly funny burlesque on the love scene from "The Lady of Lyons."

The final number was a group of Hawaain songs by H. M. Komohe and John Poe, of Bethlehem.

TWO SOLDIERS VICTIMS OF SPANISH INFLUENZA

Undertaker Wonderly removed the bodies of two soldier victims of influenza to his morgue yesterday. John R. Gehman, aged 18 years, stationed at Camp Coppee, died at St. Luke's Hospital. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gehman, of Goepf street, Bethlehem.

Private Thomas Mast, of Mast, North Carolina, died at the Allentown Hospital. He was stationed at Camp Crane and was 22 years of age.
