

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

NOT UP TO PAR

With the opening of schools yesterday morning there was very small attendance in the city schools. Whether it was the threatening weather or the large amount of sickness has not yet been determined. It is a fact that since the opening of schools the attendance has been very poor. Many people hesitate about sending their children to school, still being in fear of the influenza epidemic, while others have had the sickness in their families and do not care to send their children to school on that account.

Eleven teachers were absent from school yesterday and with only seven substitutes on whom to call Superintendent H. W. Dodd had his hands full keeping all the school rooms going.
