

Sudden Death of Henry Schoolcraft—Influenza in Town

Henry Schoolcraft died very suddenly at his home October 18. Mr. Schoolcraft apparently was in his usual health and was out of doors most of the day and in an unusually cheerful mood. He came in from his usual evening duties at the barn and complained of being dizzy. His wife helped him to the couch and a doctor was called, but death occurred almost instantly. Mr. Schoolcraft will be remembered by his friends and neighbors as a genial character, kind to those in need or distress and unusually willing to confer a favor.—The epidemic of influenza at last has reached the remote parts of Vermont and a number of serious cases and some deaths have been the result, both in this village and in the surrounding towns. The disease is under control, however, and all cases are quarantined.

CAMBRIDGE

Mrs. Clinton Barrows is visiting a sister in New York.—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Labounty and Miss Isiola Labounty have been confined to the house the last week with influenza.—Mrs. Freeman Stratton was called here Friday by the illness of her mother, Mrs. C. A. Corse.—F. M. Reynolds and Richard Luce of Waterbury were visitors here Sunday.—George Brady has gone to his home in St. Albans because of illness.—R. O. Mudgett of Essex Junction visited at W. O. Mudgett's Sunday.—Edith Start is ill with measles following an attack of influenza.—Martin Elisworth and Kenneth Newton went Wednesday to Burlington to enter the University of Vermont in the S. A. T. C.—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leavens have been visiting in Montgomery.—Miss Winnie Gray, who has been ill, has been moved to the home of her cousin, Mrs. Rose O'Connell, in Burlington, where she will be cared for.—S. M. Safford is confined to the house by illness.—E. H. Olmstead and G. A. Wilkins were business visitors in town Monday.—Mr. and Mrs. James Safford have moved to Jeffersonville.—Mrs. E. H. Lindon went Saturday to Littleton, N. H., where she will pass the winter with her husband.