From: Bureau of Medicine and Surgery.
To : Bureau of Navigation.

Subject: Naval Training Station, San Francisco, Cal. -
Freedom from influenza.

1. The Bureau is of the opinion that the Commandant and officers of the Naval Training Station, San Francisco, California deserve credit for carrying out with minute attention to detail what must be regarded as a remarkable quarantine experiment, thereby demonstrating that it is possible to keep influenza out of a station under favorable conditions at least during the height of an epidemic or as long as it is practicable to maintain the rigid quarantine.
