

150 CASES OF FLU REPORTED AT OURAY

The town of Ouray, "The Gem of the Rockies" that has maintained a "shot gun" quarantine against influenza, is today reported to be terribly stricken by that dread disease.

Last night there were reported to have been 150 cases in the town and sixty cases are reported to be at the Camp Bird mine.

There are two hospitals in Ouray filled with patients. The Sisters hospital is used for those cases that have developed pneumonia, the last and dangerous stage of the disease, while those becoming ill are taken to an emergency hospital.

The disease is reported to be spreading and many deaths are occurring.

Sister Mary Gerard, of the local nursing Sisters of Mercy, who left for there Wednesday for special expert duty, arrived yesterday at 1 o'clock and she telephoned the local hospital of the conditions.
