

MONKTON.

KILLED IN ACTION.

A telegram has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Weisenbach announcing the death of their oldest son, Charles, who was killed in action September 15. The parents had been anxiously awaiting news from him, as only a short time ago word was received that he was missing in action September 15. They had appealed to the Red Cross for aid in getting information. The deceased was one of the boys called from Monkton in the first draft. He received his first military training at Camp Devens. He was a member of Company L, 328th Inf., 82nd Division. He leaves besides his parents, one brother and four sisters.

The Christmas tree and exercises at the church in East Monkton were very enjoyable and much credit is due the Loyal Workers' society and the committee in charge. The church was prettily decorated with evergreens and Christmas bells, also two trees filled with gifts. The recitations and singing by the school children were all well rendered and they deserve much praise. The pastor was presented with a sum of money.

The fourth quarterly conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held in the church vestry Saturday, January 11, at two o'clock. The Rev. George K. Statham, district superintendent, will be present.

Etta Coats of this town and Wyman Phillips of Richford were married Dec. 24 by the Rev. M. W. Russell at the parsonage.

Sherman Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parker, is ill.

Miss Cicily Donahue of St. George and Miss Ruth Donahue, who is attending school at Castleton, are passing the holidays with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Potter of Hartford, Conn., are spending Christmas week with their daughters, Mrs. Dewey Devold and Mrs. Frank McEntee.

Alice Shepard of Vergennes has been visiting her parents.
