

CITY SCHOOLS WILL OPEN ON TUESDAY NEXT

Teachers to Watch for Any Symptoms of Disease

The public schools of the city will open Tuesday morning at the usual hours for opening. A meeting of the teachers of the city schools is called for 10 o'clock Monday morning to discuss plans under which the schools are to run and do the important work that must be done.

In addition to the regular work of the school a well organized campaign for the physical welfare of the school children will be undertaken.

The schools can help conquer just such an epidemic as we have had and the teachers will be glad of the opportunity to do what they can with the advise of the city and county physicians and the health department of the city to wage a winning contest against contagious diseases in every form.

A number of important rules will be laid down at the opening of school, the most important of which to be announced is that teachers are to watch for the symptoms of contagious diseases and, co-operating with the principal of the building, they are to exclude from school all pupils who appear to have any of the symptoms of contagious diseases, the most common of which are: flushed face, chill, headache, nausea, eruptions or rash, vomiting, running nose, congested eyes, fever, itziness, coughing and sneezing. Parents should help out in this matter by not sending their children to school if they have any of these symptoms in the morning. Failure to eat breakfast is also a sign for parents to keep the child at home. Children will also be required to come to school clean.
