

COLORADO NEWS NOTES

The toll taken in Denver by influenza is indicated by estimates made by heads of several of the largest life insurance companies in Denver, who state that between $2,500,000 and 3,000,000 has been paid in Denver in the last three months for death claims from influenza alone.