Dear Miss Taft,

I have told Miss Peabody that if you see no objection I am willing for her to take two additional hours, probably post-major Biology, during the second semester provided that she passes her German at the next trial. If she does not, she cannot take any extra work and must defer getting her degree.

One of the Freshmen who has had influenza, Miss Barbara Clark, told me today that her conscription war work had begun, that she had to do one hour this week. Do you not think that it might be well for you as Chairman of the Health Department to write to Miss Peters our decision about not conscripting students who had had influenza until Christmas.

Very sincerely yours,

Miss Helen H. Taft.
