

ALTHOUGH FLU EPIDEMIC IS ABOUT ENDED THE QUARANTINE IS EX- TENDED FOR ONE MORE WEEK

A meeting of the city and county health officers, the city and county commissioners, physicians and other officials was held Wednesday evening at city hall to discuss the flu epidemic and the advisability of continuing the quarantine.

While the reports were very favorable showing that the epidemic was well in hand and practically at an end, it was thought best to continue the quarantine as at present until a week from next Monday or November 25.

This is the fifth week of the quarantine. By thus extending the quarantine another week, making six altogether, Montrose is following prac-dent of many other places where the quarantine has extended six weeks.

Only three new cases of the flu were reported yesterday. The disease is practically checked and there have been no deaths for several days from this disease. While it would be practically safe to start school next Monday, it was argued that many people are so nervous regarding the disease that they would not allow their children to enter so that the matter might as well rest in its present status for another week. When without doubt, the disease will have entirely disappeared from the city and county and the schools and other activities can be resumed as before the epidemic began.
