Influenza Causes Flushing of Streets

Following a conference yesterday between the Mayor and President Timothy A. Reardon of the Board of Public Works plans were made to augment the city street cleaning force and keep the men at work flushing the streets and sidewalks until the influenza situation is relieved. Reardon announced last night that he had taken men from the street repair and sewer repair departments and added them to the street cleaning forces. The Park and Sutter districts were flushed early yesterday; last night the downtown district was wet down and cleaned, and tonight the men will go into the Mission.
