

Women Urged to Make Influenza Masks at Home

THE following statement was issued yesterday by John A. Britton, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter:

Any woman can make anti-influenza masks just as efficacious as those issued by the Red Cross. Clean gauze or ordinary linen is excellent material for the purpose, or a face veil folded several times would serve. Medication is not necessary.

As the fullest resources of the Red Cross are inadequate to supply the demand for masks it is the duty of every woman to provide her family with them.
