

Only Eight New Cases at Palo Alto

Influenza Epidemic Shows Decrease at Camp

CAMP FREMONT, October 29.—A decided decrease in the number of new cases of influenza is indicated by the reports made to Lieutenant-Colonel M. L. Crimmins, camp commander, by the medical staffs. Reports showed 154 men discharged from the hospital this morning as cured, while only eight new cases were reported yesterday, and today's report, when it arrives tomorrow, is expected to show even fewer.

The number released this morning makes a total of 486 influenza patients that have been discharged from the hospital since the epidemic began.

There is no change in the status of the quarantine, and Colonel Crimmins intimates that none is contemplated.

A truckload of used clothing that had evidently been collected by one of the Army quartermaster trucks for conveyance to the reclamation plant to be overhauled has been discovered hidden in a barn in Palo Alto. Neighbors said former loads had been sold to junk dealers. Captain E. L. Upson of the military police is conducting an investigation.
