

No New Influenza Cases in This City

No new cases of Spanish influenza were reported to the Board of Health this city yesterday.

Two suspects, however, were placed under observation and a general warning was issued by Dr. William C. Hassler, public health officer, calling upon the physicians of the city and the general public to report all cases immediately.

The eight influenza patients at the isolation hospital are reported progressing favorably.

Dr. Hassler said:

We must not cease our vigilance. So long as the epidemic rages in the Eastern cities and our railroad communications are open, San Francisco is liable to attack.

The isolation of early cases, the quarantine of homes where the patient has been confined and the restrictions placed upon those with whom the patient has associated will help materially in curbing the epidemic.
